Focal Theme

The present life (pleasures), the good life (Engagement) and the meaningful life, all speak of happiness. Health, mind and happiness are all inter-related. Sustainable ways and practices that lead to happiness should be practiced by an individual. Ultimately, the satisfaction and happiness of one's mind and soul can lead to self-motivation which can accelerate the process of achievement of sustainable development goals.

The happiness factor can play a crucial role, which can lead to amelioration of Visit Bharat @ 2047. The Atmanirbhar Bharat can be achieved by means of focusing on social well-being and the philosophy of happiness." The secret of happiness is not found in seeking more, but in developing the capacity to enjoy less" Socrates. India's rank in the happiness index in the year 2025 has been 118, which is far behind the rank of its neighbours. India's improvement in the happiness index needs to be focused upon.

Happiness and SDGs - the positive mind set possessed by a happy person can mean a positive approach towards life and it can lead to an Improvement in a number of parameters of SDGs. Better individual means healthier and better society. Happy people are more productive, healthier and positive influencer of the society. More contribution to the society means acceleration in the achievement of sustainable development goals.
